NEW YORK (A)-A motorist who found a parking ticket on his windshield had no way of knowing it came from a toy kit that children use to pay cops. So he sent a $5 fine to the Traffic Summons Control Bureau.

Traffic Violator Gets

Saul J. Allen, bureau director, returned the money, but in effect found the motorist guilty anyhow. He said in a letter:

"The fact that you remitted a fine would indicate that you were in violation of parking regulations. However, since one of 'New York's Finest' did not observe the violation. I have no alternative but to return your money order."

We were a bit naive, in those halycon days and also reespionage ring under a fabulous operator Richard Sorge. especially one Anges Smedley! an American writer and propagandist. Sorge was German-born but a dedicated Communist. He groomed him for 20 years to become the press attache of the German Embassy in Tokyo. How Reds Worked

"That is how the Russians work. In the parlance of the silent fraternity, this is known as 'cover'; a spy is only as good as his 'cover' is plausible. Working in the embassy Sorge was able to obtain first-hand German information as well as Japanese data, that reached the military attaches. He also had a high-level contact with the Japanese Foreign Office, in Prince Sajonii (a member of the Japan branch of the old Institute of Pacific Relations) and one Hidemi Ozaki, who had access to Prince Konoye, the prime minister, at a time when the latter sought desperately to come to a peaceable agreement with Wash-

This is historically important: in Washington we had a group that strove hard to prevent any settlewith Japan and in Japan there was a similar group that strove equally hard to prevent any settlement with Washington. The solution of the riddle is plain; both operations were in the exclusive interest of the Russians. If America took on the Japanese and vice versa, then the Kremlin could concentrate on the Germans. Unless Japan was involved in the war, the Russians had to cover Siberia which was a natural Japanese objective.

Japs Move South "Thus we find Sorge and his highlevel Japanese pals exerting their influence to drive the Japanese southward, toward the Philippines instead of northward, toward Siberia. After a period of indecision, the Japanese General Staff decided to move south, toward Manila and Singapore-and Pearl Harbor. Sorge knew of this decision in October, 1941, just before he was arrested. His work was done, he had his own formation went to Stalin at once. Pearl Harbor loomed up in the offing. Did Stalin inform Washington? It is considered more than likely. If acted on in time, it would have prevented the surprise of our garrison in Hawaii. Anyway, Stalin was the immediate beneficiary: Sorge's message changed the course of history. Freed from the threat to Siberia since Japan was turning south, Stalin was able to transfer Siberian divisions to the European

Agnes Smedley "The next Sorge associate to engage our attention was a woman, one Agnes Smedley: she gave us the lead to Shanghai where she worked with Sorge in the late 30's. Their work in China laid the foundation for its communization of today Smedley was an American citizen, a writer of Communist literature, an intimate of the Chinese Communist General Chu Teh and last but not least, a protege of Harold Ickes Truman's Secretary of the Interior. There is an opulent refuge near Saratoga Springs, known as 'Yaddoo,' a tax-exempt foundation which allows selective artists to work in elegant leisure. It was financed by

Washington Informed

"From Tokyo, I sent reports to Washington on these people and their antecedents, as fast as we unearthed information. In the end we filed something like (1,000,000) one million words beginning with 1946. Then the War Department released the Sorge Story in 1949. It became a journalistic sensation. The American Communists could not afford to take this lying down. pretty high-level support, too. Here I ask you to remember the Senate Committee report on Soviet penetration of our government. Smedley got the public assistance of no less than Harold Ickes, a former secretary of the interior, and of Kenneth Royall, the secretary of war. So you see, McCarthy's collision with the Army big-wigs is by no means far fetched or unnatural. It has happened before and it happened to me. "The American Communist Party under orders of the Kremlin, dispatched their highest officials to Shanghai in the Thirties, there to experiment with subversion in the pattern that has since become standard: infiltration of industrial labour, of maritime and dockworkers, of schools and universities and the grooming of goon-squads for shockaction in public disorders, riots, sabotage and mutinies. From sabotage to military rebellion is only a step, to be taken when conditions are ripe. The Soviets conduct sciencow. Myopic Western governments take these courses; then they reof a fifth column. That's what is going on in Guatemala, in British Guiana; that's what went on in Spain, in Greece and in North Korea; it is in its final stages in Indochina. The loot now behind the Iron Curtain was thus acquired by these experts in treason. The American Communists are equally ready and got their first laurels in China, in the Thirties. Sorge and Smedley

Before taking off for Ripon, Wis., to make a speech marking the Army witnesses; that he had not 100th anniversary of the Republican talked to any principals in the case party, McCarthy left no doubt that outside the hearing room once the he regarded yesterday's hectic developments as a prelude to final gations; and that he did not know victory in the swirling controversy.

He told newsmen that disclosures during the televised Senate probe into the dispute of hitherto-unpublished transcripts of Army-monitored phone conversations, between senators and Secretary of the Army Stevens, "blows up their whole case."

The calls spilled into the hearing record one after another yesterday, breaking a logiam over their with. release that had held them back since soon after the public inquiry began April 22. The calls quoted Stevens, in a March 8 talk with Sen. Symington (D-Mo) shortly before the Army McCarthy and his aides, as say- by Stevens' secretarial staff. ing allegations of preferential treatment for Pvt. G. With the hearings in recess until Monday, several more of the phone calls between Stevens and subcommittee members and the McCarthy camp principals remained to go into the public records. The calls were filed its "pressure" charges against originally taken down in shorthand

How Reds Worked "That is how the Russians work. In the parlance of the silent fratermity, this is known as 'cover'; a spy is only as good as his 'cover' is plausible. Working in the embassy Sorge was able to obtain first-hand German information as well as Japanese data, that reached the military attaches. He also had a high-level contact with Prince Salonji (a member of the of Pacific Relations) and one Hidemi Ozakı, who had access to Prince Konoye, the prime minister, at a time when the latter sought desperately to come to a peaceable agreement with Wash-

This is historically important: in Washington we had a group that strove hard to prevent any settlement with Japan and in Japan there was a similar group that strove equally hard to prevent any settlement with Washington. The solution of the riddle is plain; both operations were in the exclusive interest of the Russians. If America took on the Japanese and vice versa, then the Kremlin could concentrate on the Germans. Unless Japan was involved in the war, the Russlans had to cover Siberia which was a natural Japanese objective.

Japs Move South "Thus we find Sorge and his highlevel Japanese pals exerting their influence to drive the Japanese southward, toward the Philippines instead of northward, toward Siberia. After a period of indecision, the Japanese General Staff decided to move south, toward Manila and Singapore—and Pearl Harbor, Sorge knew of this decision in October. 1941, just before he was arrested. radio transmitter and this vital information went to Stalin at once. Pearl Harbor loomed up in the offing. Did Stalin inform Washington? It is considered more than likely. If acted on in time, it would have prevented the surprise of our garrison in Hawait, Anyway, Stalin was the immediate beneficiary; Sorge's message changed the course menace could not be localised; it of history. Freed from the threat to Siberia since Japan was turning south, Stalin was able to transfer Siberian divisions to the European front and stop Hitler's drive on Stalingrad.

Agnes Smedley "The next Sorge associate to engage our attention was a woman, one Agnes Smedley: she gave us the criminals including a Russian lead to Shanghai where she worked espionage ring under a fabulous with Sorge in the late 30's. Their operator Richard Sorge. I deal work in China laid the foundation with this man reluctantly, since for its communication of today. the press became enamored of Smedley was an American citizen, his dramatic story, overshadowing a writer of Communist literature, an intimate of the Chinese Communist ered much more important: I General Chu Teh and last but not least, a protege of Harold Ickes, zens who associated with this Truman's Secretary of the Interior. "Smedley accompanied the Chinese Communist armies in their retreat to Yennan and wrote a book about them. She inscribed it: "To my blood brothers of the Ninth Route Army."

Washington Informed

"From Tokyo, I sent reports to Washington on these people and their antecedents, as fast as we unearthed information. In the end, we filed something like (1,000,000) one million words beginning with the Japanese Foreign Office, in 1946. Then the War Department released the Sorge Story in 1949. It Japan branch of the old Institute became a journalistic sensation. The American Communists could not afford to take this lying down. They must have been assured of pretty high-level support, too. Here I ask you to remember the Senate Committee report on Soviet penetration of our government. Smedley got the public assistance of no less than Harold Ickes, a former secretary of the interior, and of Kenneth Royall, the secretary of war. So you see, McCarthy's collision with the Army big-wigs is by no means far fetched or unnatural. It has happened before and it happened to me.

"The American Communist Party under orders of the Kremlin, dispetched their highest officials to Shanghai in the Thirties, there to experiment with subversion in the pattern that has since become standard: infiltration of industrial labour, of maritime and dockworkers, of schools and universities and the grooming of goon-squads for shockaction in public disorders, riots, sabotage and mutinies. From sabotage to military rebellion is only a step, to be taken when conditions are ripe. The Soviets conduct scientific courses in subversion, in Moscow. Myopic Western governments permit their "citizen" saboteurs to take these courses; then they return, ready to act as expert leaders of a fifth column. That's what is going on in Guatemala, in British Guiana; that's what went on in Spain, in Greece and in North Korea: it is in its final stages in Indochina. The loot now behind the Iron Curtain was thus acquired by these experts in treason. The American Communists are equally ready and got their first laurels in China, in the Thirties. Sorge and Smedley

"Down through the end of the ages / Christ has promised His spirit to you and me and Christ's words can be relied upon," Dr. Gotwald stated. "He is ready to pour our on us His helpful guidance—but there must be a response on our parts."

The prominent churchman noted. "Faith comes from what is heard and that which is heard comes from Christ's influence. Christ meant it when He said, 'I will pour out my spirit unto you."

He cited the example of fellow Christians in Russia and China who faced persecution similar to that of the ancient Christians. "These Christians in an alien land stated that they could never have endured the ordeal of torture and brainwashing had not Christ been on their side," he said.

Dr. Gotwald declared the Apostle Peter's text, delivered on Pentecost Day in Jerusalem centuries ago, since has become known as the world's first commencement address-"given at the commencement of a new era."

Religious Pilgrimage

He noted, "As in ancient times, the men and women of today still travel on religious pilgrimages. This summer there will be a pilgrimage to our very own country when churchmen from all over the world convene at Evanston, Ill., for the conference of the World Council of Churches.

"It is appropriate that we mention this gathering," Dr. Gotwald said. "At Evanston men and women will unite in the theme-"Christ, the hope of the world."

The baccaulaureate service, preceding by several hours the 122nd annual commencement of 210 undergraduate students, began with the traditional procession of seniors and faculty members into the chapel. By Dave Garfinkle Let's take a close look at the equipment you'll need for good scenic shots this vacation. First, your camera. You can make good scenic shots with any camera. How you use it is far more important than detail in the finished print A good tripod is a must for many scenic shots. You'll want to stop your lens way down so that everything in the picture is sharp. This means using a slow shutter speed, and hand-held exposures at slow shutter speeds cause more blurred

Use a medium speed panchromatic film such as Plus-X or Supreme. These films are able to show more contrast naturally than the super-speed films. Since the lighting for most scenic shots is flat, you'll want all the contrast you can get. The orthochromatic films, such as Verichrome, are also excellent for scenics, but cannot be used with a red filter.

Use a vellow filter for reproducing a scene just as you see it. This filter will darken the sky somewhat and make the clouds stand out nicely. Use a red filter for more dramatic effects. It will make hive skies darker and clouds will stand out sharply. Either filter will help penetrate ordinary atmospheric haze so that distant objects will photograph more clearly. Orestes "Minnie" Minoso Is Setting Hottest Pace In All Departments For White Sox Blue Ridge Summit . 5

Boston

By JOE REICHLER AP Sports Writer

Orestes (Minnie) Minoso, cited by Ted Williams as "potentially the greatest player in the American League," has thrust himself boldly into the running for the most coveted honor the junior circuit has to offer-the Most Valuable Player award.

Largely because of the all-around Chicago brilliance of this fleet-footed son New York of Matanza, Cuba, the Chicago Detroit White Sox have been able to keep Washington 19 28 within striking distance of the league-leading Cleveland Indians. No player—and that includes Williams, Al Rosen and Yogi Berra-has done more for his club than Minoso. As the season comes to the one-third mark, the 30-yearold outfielder leads the circuit in rune batted in, runs scored and triples. He's tied for the lead in stolen bases and in the top five in hits, home runs, doubles and batting. His team value is reflected in his ability to do a workmanlike job at third base as well as anywhere in the outfield.

Big Gun In Twin Minoso was Chicago's big gun again yesterday as the White Sox swept a double-header from Washington 5-3 and 6-0 to run their winning streak to five straight and stay within eight percentage points of first place. He smashed his 10th home run with a man on base to provide the winning margin in the opener. He collected three singles, drove in his 50th and 51st runs, scored his 46th run and stole his sevenib base in the nightcap. He is hitting .333.

BUCKS COUNTY PLANS SECOND

HARRISBURG (A) - Formal organization of Pennsylvania's second county health unit-in Bucks County-is expected shortly, the state Tuberculosis and Health Society reported today.

Bucks County voters approved formation of the department by a 2-1 margin last November. The only county health unit in operation is in Butler County where almost every community is included. In its publication, Pennsylvania Public Health News, the society quoted a spokesman for the Bucks County commissioners as stating, plans for final organization are now well under way and there should be something definite to announce shortly."

Quakertown, Perkasie, New Hope and Morrisville boroughs have already indicated they will give up individual health boards when the county unit is formed. Several borough health boards indicated a desire to continue operation after the county department is organized.

Under state law providing for the county units, designed to decentralize, state public health activities, a committee of five-two medical doctors and three other county citizens-must be formed to bring about organization of the unit. This committee would select a director qualified in public

The society reported the county commissioners have received a number of letters from persons willing to serve on the committee Saigon said plans to airlift three and that at least two physicians, battalions of French soldiers from one from North Carolina and another from Michigan, have applied for the directorship.

By FRED y fred 8. Hoff Hington (#) trian born janitor, shaken because the Navy has held back a com-mission from his Annapolis-gradushaken because ated son, says he's to blame be-cause he bought insurance 17 years ago from an organization now on the attorney geenral's subversive list.

In halting sentences, Andrew Yadlowsky explained Friday night he was sold on a policy for his son, Peter, because members of the In-ternational Workers Order told him it was cheap and he could get sick benefits from it. Yadlowsky, a naturalized citizen, said he never belonged to the IWO.

"My son didn't know anything," said Yadlowsky in a telephone in-terview from his Jersey City, N. J., home, "and he has to suffer because I insured him . . . He never paid anything . . . He was 13 years old."

Question of "Security"

Peter Yadlowsky graduated from the U. S. "aval Academy Friday along with 851 classmates. But the Navy has said that he and two other midshipmen—Harold I. Pollack, Hartford, Conn., and Paul Shimek Jr., Hazen, Ark.—cannot be commissioned until security checks on them are completed. Meanwhile, the three were to go home and await the outcome of the investigations.

Yadlowsky said he was at Annapolis, Md., Friday, and had discussed the situation. Pollack's parents were on hand for the graduation exercises, but were not reached for comment. In Hazen, Shimek's parents were not available for comment.

A spokesman at the Naval Academy told the Hartford Courant:

"The question of loyalty is not involved in Pollack's case. Rather it is a question in the broad category of what is called 'security." He did not elaborate. Pollack stood 118th in the class of 852, the 114th class to win di-plomas from the Naval Academy. ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Invasion Of France Recalled Local Horse Wins On 10th Anniversary; 9,485 Crosses Are Lessons In Unity

OMAHA BEACH, France What was it like on the beaches Ď-Day?

The French people showed yesserday they haven't forgotten the 9.485 Americans still in St. Laurent Cemetery and those thousands said: of others who died here but are buried in their homeland.

French Tricolors decorated every small town to welcome visfors. More than 25,000 turned out to hear speeches at Utah Beach by France's President Rene Coty and U. S. Ambassador Henry Cab-Lodge Jr., President Eisenhower's personal representative.

Gen. J. Lawton (Lightning Joe) Collins and Gen. Lee T. Gerow, commanders of the two American corps that landed here on June 6, 1944, were among the host of highrenking Army, Air Force and Navy officers present from half a dozen countries.

The feeling they seemed to share was expressed by Lt. John J. Moglia of Hempstead, N.Y., who

"I always wanted to come back to see this piece of terrain under different conditions. Now the places I could never forget are hard to find. If it weren't for the cemetery, the beach would look like a summer resort. Most of the obstacles that were here 10 years ago are gone now."
